A 気仙沼市東日本大震災遺構・伝承館

Ruins of the Great East Japan Earthquake Kesennuma City Memorial Museum

震災の記録と教訓を伝承するため、「目に見える証」として津波で4階まで被災した気仙沼向洋高校旧校舎を「震災遺構」として保存し、震災時の津波映像や被災直後の写真展示を備える「震災伝承館」と併せて公開しています。

In order to pass down records and lessons learned from the earthquake disaster, the former Kesennuma Koyo High School building, which was damaged by the tsunami up to the 4th floor, was preserved as a disaster memorial ruins to serve as "visible evidence" of the memories and lessons learned. This facility also exhibits visual footages from the tsunami image and photos immediately after the disaster.

B 南三陸町震災復興祈念公園

Minamisanriku Town Earthquake Disaster Memorial Park

「南三陸町旧防災対策庁舎」をはじめ、「祈りの丘」や「復興祈念のテラス」、「語り継ぎの広場」など、追悼・継承・感謝そして未来を想像する協働の場として公開。公園とさきさん商店街を結ぶ「中橋」は、復興の象徴としてデザインされています。

The memorial park opened as a place of remembrance, appreciation and to pass down memories and to collaborate on the vision of the town's future through the facilities located here, including the Minamisanriku Town Former Disaster Prevention Countermeasures Office, the Hill of Prayer, Memorial Terrace, and the Memorial Storytelling Plaza. The newly constructed Nakahashi Bridge connecting the memorial park to Sun Sun Shopping Village was designed to symbolize the recovery.
